Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claim 1-3 and 16-17, drawn to a method for identifying a compound that modulates the activity of a PAP phosphatase enzyme in vitro, classified in class 435, subclass 21.
- II. Claim 4-15, drawn to a method for identifying a compound that modulates the activity of a PAP phosphatase enzyme in vivo in recombinant yeast, classified in class 435, subclass 731.
- III. Claim 18-29, drawn to a method for identifying a compound that modulates the activity of a sulfur assimilation pathway enzyme in vitro, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- IV. Claim 30-36, and 40-48 drawn to a transgenic animal having incorporated into its genome a gene encoding BPntase, and the method for using said animal for identifying a compound for treating a toxic effect resulting from a therapeutic treatment, classified in class 800, subclass 3.
- V. Claim 37-39, drawn to a transgene construct comprising BPntase gene and a transgenic cell, classified in class 435, subclass 325.
- VI. Claim 49-55, drawn to a method for treating lithium-related toxicity in a subject suffering from said toxicity*, classification unknown, depending on the compound used for treatment.

Inventions I-VII are distinct for the following reasons:

Invention I and II-VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of group I and methods of Group II –III, and VI-VII are all methods that have different modes of operation and are not disclosed as capable of use together. In addition the method of group I does not use any of the products of group IV and V.

Invention II and invention III and VI-VII, are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of group II and methods of Group II, and VI-VII are all methods that have different modes of operation and are not disclosed as capable of use together. In addition, the method of group II does not use any of the products of group IV and V.

Invention III and invention IV and VI-VII, are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the method of group III and methods VI-VIII are all methods that have different modes of operation and are not disclosed as capable of use together. In addition, the method of group III does not use any of the products of group IV and V.

Art Unit: 1652

Invention IV and invention V and VI-VII, are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions; the products of group IV and V are different products that are not disclosed as capable of use together. Furthermore, the product of group IV is not used in the methods of Groups VI and VII.

Invention V and VI-VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions, the products of group V is not used in any of the methods of group VI and VII.

Invention VI and VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are two different methods that do not use the same product, have different modes of operation and are not disclosed as capable of use together.

Inventions I-VII are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art. Because of their recognized divergent subject matter and/or different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
